ADITYA BIRLA SUN LIFE INSURANCE - FIELD SALES ACTIVITY PRESENTATION - ABSLI

Background & Objectives

The objective of this field sales activity was to gain practical, hands-on experience in real-world selling. Students engaged directly with customers to understand selling techniques, observe customer responses, and develop interpersonal communication skills. The activity aimed to bridge classroom learning with on-ground sales exposure through pen selling on behalf of Aditya Birla Sun Life Insurance.

Purchase Details Analysis

We purchased 4 packets of pens, with 5 pens per packet. Each packet was priced at 45. Total pens acquired: 20 units.

Total investment made: 180. This calculation covers 4 packets × 45 per packet, forming the basis for our field sales cost analysis.

Field Sales Activity

Deepak Jatav and his partner conducted the field sales activity by approaching customers in the local market. They promoted and sold pens door-to-door and at public spaces, engaging potential buyers with product demonstrations and persuasive communication to drive sales.

ABSLI FIELD SALES ACTIVITY

Customer Interaction

We approached customers directly in the field, introduced ourselves as ABSLI representatives, and presented the pen product. We explained the product's usefulness, quality, and affordable price of 9 per pen. Customers were engaged through friendly conversation, their questions were answered clearly, and feedback was collected to improve our sales approach.

Customer Photos

Field visit photographs documenting real customer interactions during the pen selling activity. Images capture on-ground engagement with prospective buyers across various locations.

Profit and Loss

Total Investment: 180 (4 packets × 45)
Total Pens: 20 | Cost per Pen: 9
Selling Price per Pen: 12
Total Sales Revenue: 240
Profit = Revenue – Investment
Profit = 240 – 180 = 60
Net Profit: 60 | ROI: 33.3%
