Submitted by:
Ajeet Kumar Gupta

Aditya Birla Sun Life Insurance

Field Sales Activity – Customer Interaction and Pen Selling

Submitted To:
Prof. Ravi Kumar
& Prof. Suma

ABSLI Field Sales

123-456-7890

www.reallygreatsite.com

Objective

The objective of this field sales activity is to practice direct customer interaction in a real-world environment. Students were tasked with promoting and selling everyday products — pens and key rings — to understand the fundamentals of field selling, build communication confidence, handle objections, and experience the complete sales cycle from approach to closure.

Purchase Details

Pen (Each)	Key Ring (Each)
10	35

Total Pens	Total Investment
08 Pens	115

ABSLI Field Activity

Field Sales Activity

01 Approached target customers

02 Presented pens & key rings

03 Explained pricing clearly

04 Completed sales on-field

Ajeet personally visited customers, demonstrated the products, and communicated the value of each item to close sales successfully in the field.

Customer Interaction

The customer interaction process began with a warm greeting to build rapport and trust. Products — pens (10 each) and key rings (35 each) — were introduced clearly. Customer questions were answered patiently, highlighting value and affordability. Purchases were encouraged through friendly conversation, resulting in successful pen selling across the field.

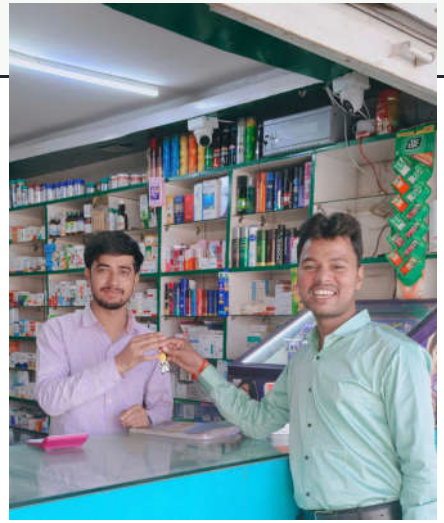

Customer Photos

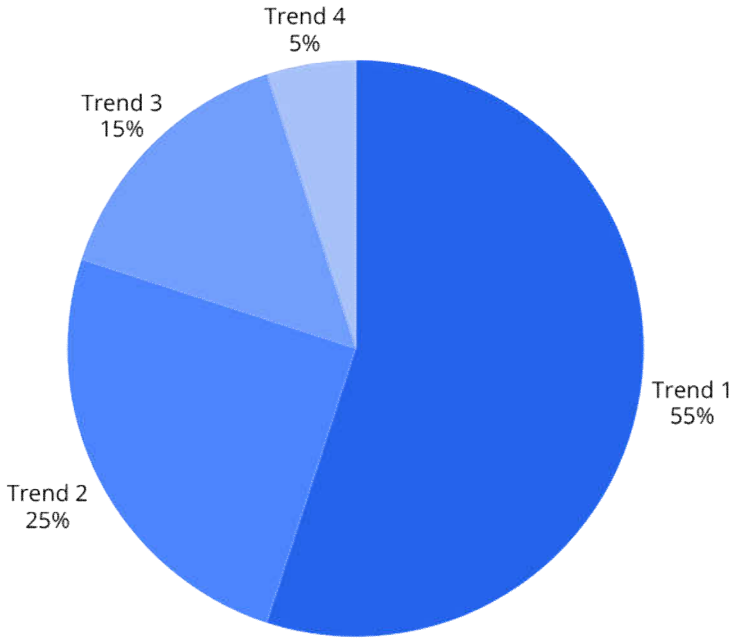

01. Customer Interaction – Location 1
02. Customer Interaction – Location 2
03. Pen Selling Activity – Site Visit
04. Key Ring Sale – Customer Meet
05. Field Interaction – Pharmacy Area
06. Product Demo with Customer
07. Post-Sale Interaction Photo
08. Team Field Activity Evidence

Profit & Loss

Example Calculation: Total Investment 115 (8 pens × 10 + 1 key ring × 35). Revenue from selling all items at market price to be recorded. Profit or Loss = Total Revenue Total Investment. This activity demonstrates real-world field sales outcomes.

Submitted by:
Ajeet Kumar Gupta

ABSLI

Thank You

Questions &
Discussion

2026

9576974855

www.adityabirlacapital.com